

Special Notice Regarding Barnwell Access
March 16, 2004

Access between now and June 30, 2004: The Barnwell site does have some limited volume available for generators without access agreements. Please contact us if you have a pressing need to dispose of small volumes of waste.

Access between July 1, 2004 and June 30, 2005: The Barnwell site does have uncommitted volume available but might not be able to accommodate everyone throughout the fiscal year. Because the volume caps go down by 5,000 cubic feet each year, this may be the only window of opportunity for disposal of any legacy waste from operating and decommissioned reactors.
